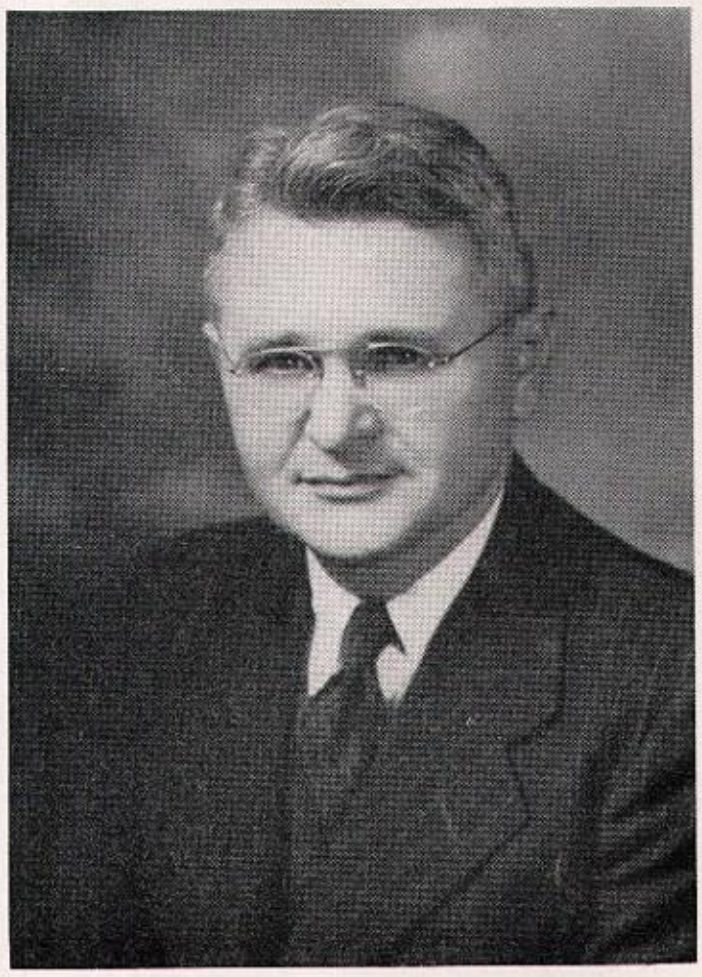
MRS. MARY M. PERRY



MR. WILLIAM J. GAIDYS

Dedication

The Senior Class of 1953 dedicates this yearbook to Mrs. Mary M. Perry for her untiring efforts. Her interest and willingness to guide us to higher education, has left imprinted in our minds her ability as a remarkable teacher and leader.

And to William J. Gaidys, whose outstanding ability in coaching and team leadership has taught us to play the game fair, to fight and win against odds. To lose if we must, and to do it gracefully, phrases the ideal that proves him to be the fine person that he is.

Class Song

by RUTH ANGELL and ROGER PIERCE

(Sung to tune of "Song for Cornell")

At Randolph High we grew wiser daily
As we schooled our minds and our bodies to obey.
With the help of teachers, all, to guide us
Comes graduation day.

We thank you teachers, all, so loyal and true.
Deep down in our hearts we are grateful to you,
To our classmates, schoolmates, friends of Randolph High.
We will remember you!

Class History

by KATHERINE HOLMAN and LEO BARCOMB

One rainy morning in September, 1940, thirty-five happy-go-lucky kids were accompanied by their mothers to the red building on Main Street, better known as "school," to begin the life of a scholar. Miss Davis, our first-grade teacher, was faced with the task of teaching us the formalities of school. Of the thirty-five, only eleven are graduating this year.

We entered the second grade with Miss Kinville as our teacher. We gained eight new students but found that we had lost Robert Payette, Margaret Boudro, Paul Belair, Pat Cheney, Robert Huard, Kenneth Stone, Myrtie Seymour, Robert Arbuckle, and M. Garing.

Our class was no exception in the third grade as far as broken rulers and trips to the coat room go. Mrs. Stokes gladly lent her services and a brush to keep several of the boys' necks clean. We gained six and lost Robert Bacon, Raymond Shonio, Duncan McLauren, William Jamieson, Diane DuCharme, Barbara North, and Merle Eddy.

In the fall of 1943, we entered the fourth grade with a class of twenty-eight and Miss Walbridge as our teacher. This year, we lost eight and gained Jacqueline Burrington and Virginia Louise Flint. The arrival of Virginia caused a little confusion because we already had one Virginia Flint in the class. But Miss Walbridge settled this by referring to them as "Virginia L" and "Virginia M."

We passed through the fourth grade with flying colors. In the fifth grade, under the direction of Mrs. Menard, the class presented a play to the visiting mothers, in which Allen Fullam was the beau who came to call and was entertained by the young sister and brother while waiting for his girl-friend. They fed him fudge (thoroughly doctored with red pepper!) and settled him in a chair in the seat of which quite a few pins were embedded. The play was enjoyed by the mothers and the pupils who took part. This was our first attempt at dramatics, and even then our class showed its ability to cooperate and the will to make everything we try a success. We gained seven and lost Jackie Burrington.

In the sixth grade, after gaining six and losing six, our class numbered thirty-two. Our teacher that year was Miss Marshall, who spent a good deal of time intercepting the continuous flow of notes. During the fifth and sixth grades, our class gained two of R. H. S.'s best basketball players, Frank Patch and Allen Fullam.

We entered the seventh grade with thirty-two pupils. We lost Eugene Bingham and Shirley Osha, and gained Larraine Farnham, Sandra Richards, and Marilyn Packard. Outstanding in all our minds are our trip to Fort Ticonderoga and the time Sandy Richards broke the window by slamming the door on her way out. Our teacher was Mr. Brock.

In the eighth grade our teacher was Mrs. Gray. This year we lost Lester Delisle and Ray Dufrain, and gained Harold McGee, Virginia Payette, and Rita Martell, making the class number thirty-three. Sandra Richards invited us to the Gulf House for our class picnic.

So, in September, 1950, sixty-nine "bashful boys" and "silly girls" stumbled up to face their first day of high school. Our advisors, Mr. Murray and Mr. Cheney, started us off on the road to financial success as we put on two food sales and a social.

Our class officers were: President, Dean Flint; Vice-president, James Lamb; Secretary, Allen Fullam; Treasurer, Diane DuCharme; Student Council, Joan Barrett and Robert Rattee.

Our freshman Carnival Play was "The Ghostly Passenger."

At the beginning of our sophomore year we found that we had lost Ruey Brown, Melvin Flint, Kenneth Faint, Ann Gregory, Janet Voudrin, Robert Packard, Lester Delisle, Herbert Flint, Joyce Dukette, while gaining Jeannine Larocque and Carole Mead.

Our class officers were: President, James Lamb; Vice-president, Avis Tallman; Secretary, Allen Fullam; Treasurer, Dorothy Perry; Student Council, Joan Barrett and Peter Catlin.

For our sophomore Carnival Play we presented "Advertising For a Husband," but with no success in producing a cup winner. We had some weird times with our advisors, Mr. Cheney and Mr. Roberti, when on our two picnics.

At last we found ourselves upperclassmen! Our numbers decreased to fifty-two as we lost Lois Sager, Edwin Brown, Evelyn Locke, Phyllis Davis, Janice Tyler, Robert Rattee, Sandra Richards, Virginia L. Flint, Marilyn Packard, John Howard, and Leslie Thresher and gained Marji Haseltine and Peggy Martell. We were gifted with new advisors, Mrs. Perry and Miss Johnson.

Our class officers were: President, Dean Flint; Vice-president, Gene Campbell; Secretary, Allen Fullam; Treasurer, Dorothy Perry; Student Council, Janet Cady and Leo Barcomb. We conducted dancing school and also put on a very successful New Year's Dance. Dorothy Perry and Janet Cady were the representatives to Girls' State. Sheldon Newman and Peter Catlin went to Boys' State. Our Carnival Play, "18 Washington Square, South," was just what the doctor ordered, and the class of '53 walked away with their first cup.

So, finally September, and we found ourselves "Silly Seniors" with only forty-eight of our large class left. We lost Peggy Martell, Marji Haseltine, Helen Barrett, Bernard Roberts, and Preston Milo. Our advisors were Miss Johnson and Mrs. Perry.

We elected as our officers: President, Dean Flint; Vice-president, Chester Manning; Secretary, Allen Fullam; Treasurer, Dorothy Perry; Student Council, Katherine Holman and Leo Barcomb. Chester Manning was elected president of the Student Council.

Our senior play, "One Foot In Heaven," was a great success. A drama, "Fog On the Valley," was our Carnival play and again it came through a cup winner. We thank Miss Johnson for two Carnival cups and our Senior Play.

As our twelve years of fun and studies come to an end, we know we'll miss being back at R. H. S. These years have been the most important years of our lives and with this in mind, we bring this, our history, to a close.

Class Poem

by SHIRLEY BIRD and PHYLLIS PRIOR

We left the days of childhood,
The days of fun and frolic;
And as we reached the grades ahead,
We learned things more symbolic.

At last we entered R. H. S.,
As proud as we could be.
Now we've completed our four years;
It's time for us to leave.

Remembering fun and classes,
The times we cheered at games,
What happiness and sadness
Were ours in strife for fame.

Our teachers gratefully we thank
For wisdom we obtained.
We'll always treasure memories
Of standards they maintained.

Our high school days are over;
We've come to bid good-bye
And thank our folks for sending us
Through all our years at Randolph High.

Class Will

by NANCY BATTLES, AVIS TALLMAN, and FRANK PATCH

We, the Senior Boys' Basketball Team, do will our courtesy when playing basketball to the future girls' team. May they play a cleaner game!

To the Juniors we leave our ability to win the Carnival Cup. Good luck next year, Juniors!

To the Sophomores we leave our success at sponsoring dancing school. May they earn as much money as we did!

To the Freshmen we leave our ability to make money. May they have a wonderful trip!

I, Ruth Angell, do will my ability to play the marimba to Wallace Clark. May he use it to advantage.

I, Barbara Baker, do will my job at Tunbridge Fair to Elizabeth Sprague.

I, Joan Barrett Seymour, do will my quiet, ladylike manner to Sandra Morse so her voice can't be heard echoing through the halls.

I, Leo Barcomb, do will my ability to take freshman subjects my senior year to Raymond Gray, so he'll have more time for Mary Ann.

I, Gordon Bassett, do will my ability to get along without girls to Clayton Carpenter. May he endeavor to get his studies done.

I, Nancy Battles, do bequeath my art of getting to school on Monday mornings at 8:35 to anyone who likes to sleep Monday mornings.

I, Rexford Bell, do will my ability to be true to my girl to Lee Flint.

I, Shirley Bird, do will my ability to go steady to Ranee Cowdrey.

I, Rachel Bowen, do will my ability to get along without boys to Ginny Goodrich.

I, Winston Bowen, do will my politeness to some of the boys in the Junior Class.

I, Lawrence Brassard, do will my ability to work and like it to Gilbert Tabor.

I, Janet Cady, do will my golden tresses to Cecile Voghell.

I, Gene Campbell, do leave my basketball ability to Clifford Prior.

I, Peter Catlin, do will my temper to David Young. May he have more fire in class meetings.

I, Herbert Cooper, do will my quick wit to Peggy Dalton. May she keep everyone in stitches.

I, Herbert Corse, do leave my butch haircut to Laurie McGee. Hope you like it, Laurie!

I, Richard Cutting, do leave my ability to think up nicknames to no one. May everyone answer to his given name from now on.

I, Donald Denko, do will my home on a hill to Ronald Smith, so, when he comes in late, he'll have a good excuse to give Mr. Gaidys.

I, Diane DuCharme, do will my typing ability to Stella Blanchard.

I, Beverly Dumont, do will my bookkeeping book to Marlene Coffin.

I, Dean Flint, do will my size fourteen shoes to Fred Farrington. May he grow into them.

I, Virginia Flint, do will my good marks to any underclassman who doesn't like to do his work.

I, Allen Fullam, do will my ability to charm all girls to Elmer Archer.

I, Katherine Holman, do will my ability to study to Stanley Dumont.

I, Guy Hutchinson, do will my ability to do algebra to Katherine Hodgdon.

I, Anne Jarvis, do will my quietness to Janice Rogers. May she keep out of trouble.

I, James Lamb, do will my singing ability to Charles Rogers, so he can take chorus next year.

I, Chester Manning, do will my bashfulness when getting up in front of class meetings to Richard Menard.

I, Rita Martell, do will my ability to sleep during the last two study halls in the afternoon to any tired underclassman.

I, Carole Mead, do will my love for English IV B to Ronald Smith.

I, Jeannine Larocque, do will my ability to speak French to Emily Tancreti so she and Robert will be able to understand each other better.

I, Harold McGee, do will my father's car to Ranee Tabor, so he won't have to pay so much money for parts on his Oldsmobile.

I, David Mahoney, do will my ability to raise cain in classes and get away with it to Gilbert Tabor.

I, Mary Menard, do will my ability to get along with the Aggies to Ann Snelling.

I, Sheldon Newman, do will my ability to irritate people to anyone unfortunate enough to obtain it.

I, Frank Patch, do will my ability to grow a goatee to any poor freshman boy who thinks he can grow one.

I, Dorothy Perry, do will my debating ability to Clark Campbell so he can go to tournament next year.

I, Roger Pierce, do will my musical ability to Arthur Howe so he can serenade his girl-friend.

I, Nancy Preston, do will my quietness in Algebra class to Lee Flint.

I, Phyllis Prior, do will a goodly share of my noisy manner to Winona Waldo.

I, Lilla Reynolds, do will my ability to get along with the teachers to Gilbert Tabor.

I, Lois Smith, do will my naturally curly locks to Nancy Billings.

I, "Gus" Sivret, do will my place in fifth period study hall to any foolish freshman who likes to have a good time.

I, Eugene Squire, do will my mild temper and blonde hair to Luther Tabor. Don't let your red hair get the best of you, now, Luke.

I, Jimmy Stone, do will my interest in commercial subjects to any boy who wants to be a secretary or go in business for himself.

I, Avis Tallman, do will my ability to flirt with guys to Elinor Barrett.

I, Wendell Thurston, do will my ability to lead and be in everything to any underclassman who wants to make good.

I, Betty Thomas, do will my diamond to Phyllis Cowdrey.

I. C. GREEN,

R. U. DUNN,

LEAPIN' LENA.

Class Prophecy

by BARBARA BAKER, MARY MENARD, and GENE CAMPBELL

TIME — September 27, 1985.

Barb Baker: (Humming "In My Merry Oldsmobile")

Gene Campbell: You goin' somewhere, lady?

Barb: No. (Read top of board) Are you Randolph's Gene Campbell?

Gene: Sure am. You somebody I'm supposed to know?

Barb: Why, Gene, don't you remember me? I used to be Barb Baker. I went to school with you.

Gene: Time does age a woman, doesn't it?

Barb: You don't look like a spring chicken yourself. What are you doin' with all the dry goods?

Gene: You never were too bright. Them prizes, are first prizes, all but that one on the bottom. She's always been 'honery anyhow. Just like you used to be. What are you doing around here all dressed up like a Christmas tree?

Barb: Just a minute, you tell me what you're doing and I will tell you what I am doing.

Gene: O. K., drag yourself over a bag of grain and sit down.

Barb: Gene, I haven't worked in years. I couldn't move that thing.

Gene: Oh, well, you always were a helpless thing. Come on- (Both sit down.) Well, tell papa all about it, where did you get all those glad rags?

Barb: I am married to a banker in New York. I have three children, two boys and a girl. And, of course, I don't have to work — I have two maids. Nice, huh? What about you?

Gene: Sandie and I are married, but we don't have any children — yet. I just won another prize here today on my Jersey cow.

Barb: Listen to that music! You know who that reminds me of?

Gene: No, I can't imagine.

Barb: Herbie Cooper and Ginny Flint — remember that Oldsmobile he used to run around in. Say, where are they now?

Gene: They were married right after graduation. He owns a farm in Peth.

Mary Menard (enters and goes over to David Mahoney's booth.): I've come to collect the money to take to the bank. Haven't I seen you before?

David: Perhaps. My name is David Mahoney.

Mary: Why, I used to be Mary Menard.

David: We sure raised it in high school, didn't we?

Gene: Who's all that?

Barb: That's Mary Menard. She's working at the Bank in Randolph. Why, Mary, how nice to see you.

Gene: Remember Lilla Reynolds? She has a beauty parlor in Boston.

Mary: I know, I just had my hair done there. Her styles are terrific!

Speaking of Boston, Lois Smith is a nurse at Mass. General. Anne Jarvis is a secretary in some big law firm.

Barb: Isn't that Rachel Bowen over at David's booth? How nice to see you, Rachel. Are those yours?

Rachel: No, I'm working at an orphanage in Burlington. This is Tommy and Jane. Say "Hi." Say, I just saw Katherine Holman over there.

Gene: Go get her.

Mary: Katherine is over here taking care of the flower show. You know Winston Bowen is running the Green House and Katherine, the shop.

Katherine: Hello, Gene. (Looks at Barb.)

Gene: This is Barb Baker.

Katherine: (Carrying a plant): Hello, Barb. I'm taking this back to Randolph for Winston's wife who just sprained her ankle. It's the prettiest we have. It's so hard for her with those six children. Nice to see you again. (Starts to leave.) You know, we had a big wedding the other day. Rexford Bell and Nancy Preston finally got married. On their honeymoon they went to New York, where we went on our class trip. They saw Ruth Angell — she was hostess, and Betty Thomas was part of the floor show. Did you know Leo Barcomb plays trumpet in Benny Goodman's band and they were playing there?

Gene: Oh, this will interest you, Barb. My wife and I and the kids went down to New Jersey to visit Frank Farrington and Diane DuCharme. He's been manager down there for the last ten years. Roger Pierce has a dine and dance place just down the road. He's doing fine; he gets his dairy products from Frank and his chickens from Shirley Bird. She married "Al" about two years after graduation.

Mary: Everybody that's farming in our class is doing well; David over there specializes in raising potatoes. That's why he has free time to come down and run this booth for the Grange. I was talking to Dean Flint the other day — you should see the modern garage he has now. He's president of the school board. I told him it was a shame the wages he was paying Janet Cady and Wendell Thurston. Janet's teaching the sixth grade — still riding to school on a bicycle; and Wendell is teaching Industrial Arts — had to borrow Peter Catlin's station wagon to take the boys to a patrol meeting the other day.

Barb: Peter's back in Randolph?

Gene: He has come back to run his father's factories, and has also bought out Savage.

Richard Cutting and Lawrence Brassard enter, mumbling.

Barb: They look familiar to me.

Gene: That's Richard Cutting and Lawrence Brassard.

Mary: Dick has a stable of racing horses over in Woodstock. Brassard is one of his jockeys — probably racing this afternoon.

Barb: Richard —

Gene: So you recognize Barb. I've been telling her about all our old gang.

Dick: They're pretty well scattered. You'd be surprised how many I meet at the various race tracks. Frank Patch, for instance. He was taking the official pictures at the Kentucky Derby last spring.

Barb: I'd like to see Frank again.

Dick: Put on quite a bit of weight. His wife is a Southern girl — probably a good cook. You should see their two daughters. Boy! Make a man wish he were young again.

Barb: Must be interesting to travel around as you do.

Dick: Yep, see all types. Oh, say, Gene. I saw Jimmy Lamb last week. He wanted to be remembered to you.

Gene: I haven't seen or heard from Jimmy since he went to that hospital in Chicago to train to be a nurse.

Dick: I tell you, he's a cracker-jack nurse. There was a bad fire right beside the race track. Jimmy came with the ambulance and when they sent back to the hospital for more nurses who should come but Nancy Battles. They're both instructors in the National Hospital in Chattanooga.

Barb: Didn't Nancy Battles ever get married?

Dick: No. She has a cute apartment with Avis Tallman. Avis is the manager of the Liggett Drugstore in Chattanooga. (Dick stands up.) Well, I've got to be going along; I'm meeting Harold McGee in Boston tonight.

Dick: He's drawing up the plans for my new stable. He's considered a top architect. (Starts out.) Funny how our class seems to stick together. I get my grain from Jimmy Stone's feed store. I get my saddles and riding equipment from Gus Sivret's large leather store in Boston. Come over sometime, Barb. I'd like to have you meet the wife and twins.

Mary: Well, I do think we stick together. I had a letter from Phyllis Prior the other day and she's agreed to be soloist in Sheldon Newman's church in Dorchester. She married Bob Paquin right after she graduated and they built up a repair business for farm machinery just outside the city. She wrote me that Jeannine Larocque drove down from Maine to spend a few days with her. Jeannine and her husband are running a motel on the coast.

Gene: There's still one person here you haven't met and that's Allen Fullam. He has charge of the Auto Show here. For ten or more years he's been doing a wonderful business selling G. M. cars in Barre.

Rachel calls to Gene: Well, I've got to be going, but I'll send Allen over.

Mary: I have an appointment to meet Diane Belisle in Montpelier. She wants my advice on buying the department store where she's been the manager for the last few years.

Allen and Gene enter. (Gene dragging wagon.)

Barb (Jumps up.): Well, what's here? What a nice wagon. (Speaks to baby.) Hello, Allen. (Shakes hands.)

Gene: This is really a '53 product because Chester Manning and his two sons make them. They have quite a large factory in Bethel now, and you know they buy their lumber from Guy Hutchinson. He has several lumber camps in the northern part of the state. Herbert Corse is managing the largest one up beyond Island Pond.

Allen: Nice to see you, Barb. Gene tells me you've been talking over old times. I saw a couple of our classmates last winter. I was driving a group of fellows over to Sampson and I met Charlie Seymour. He took me home to see Joan. He's a colonel.

Barb: How's Joan?

Allen: She's fine. She seems to get prettier by the year. Their three children are in high school now. The girl looks just like Joan. Oh, and Carole Mead's out there, too! She's one of the secretaries. She joined the WAF's the year after graduation. She wanted to go abroad but she's never left the country.

Barb: I'll tell you who has. Dot Perry has been in France for the past five years. She is a foreign correspondent for the "Times." It must have been last year that she sent me word. Rita Martell is in the WAF's and has been in Italy for two or three years.

Allen: I've got to be leaving. I just sold a car to Eugene Squires. Donald Denko is going to deliver it. It is a special job that Donald has designed for GM. Squires wanted something that he could use to drive back and forth to his talc mill up north and be able to go to Connecticut to visit his wife's people every few weeks. See you again sometime.

Barb: I never thought when I just drove up here that I'd find out so much. The only one I heard about was Bev Dumont. I read about her in the New York paper.

Mary: Wasn't that just wonderful being selected the "Mother of the Year."

Barb: As I remember it she used to mother us all anyway. I was so proud I wore the paper all out showing it to my friends. I really have to be going. I'll drop you a line when I get back, and do come down and see me, Mary.

Mary (Looks at watch.): My goodness! I've got to call on all these concessions — be seeing you, Barb. (Goes out.)

Cheer Leaders

The cheer leaders this year want to thank all those who stood behind them and helped cheer R.H.S. on to victory. We were very proud to be able to cheer our boys in the tournament playoff. We certainly want to thank our substitutes, Barbara Baker and Shirley Bird, who took the places of Diane Belisle and Joan Barrett.

We are leaving a fine group of Junior cheer leaders with the hope that they will continue to have the fine time we enjoyed.

Standing: Burley Barnard, Richard Sivret, Luther Tabor, Roger Pierce, Philip Hannah, Donald Murray, Michael Pierce, Mr. Gaidys.

Boys' Basketball

The Randolph Galloping Ghosts didn't gallop quite as far as they would have liked to this year, but they did manage to get a play-off for the Southern Tournament against Waterbury. However, they couldn't pull it out of the fire. The Ghosts rang up fourteen victories as against five set-backs. The game of the year was a double overtime fracas with Stowe, which R.H.S. pulled out of the flames by two points. Seven men will be lost by graduation. They are Dean Flint (season's high scorer), Allen Fullam, Leo Barcomb, Frank Patch, Gene Campbell, Gus Sivret and Roger Pierce.

Best of luck to the future Ghosts. Keep Randolph in the running!

Seated (left to right): Shayne Tabor, Sandra Morse, Ranee Cowdrey, Dorothy Perry, Shirley Bird, Phyllis Prior, Beth Ann Wood, Ruth Angell.

Standing: Avis Tallman — Manager, Elizabeth Sprague, Elaine Battles, Rebecca Campbell, Elinor Hutchinson, Katherine Hodgdon, Mary Chadwick, Carol Lewis, Coach Bond.

Seated on Floor: Joyce Barnes, Sharon Tabor.

Girls' Basketball

The girls, coached by Mr. Bond, had a very successful season, with eleven wins and one loss, losing their one and only to South Royalton. The squad will lose Shirley Bird, Phyllis Prior, Dorothy Perry and Ruth Angell. There are good prospects for the coming year.

Front Row (left to right): Gene Campbell, Herbert Corse, Ronald Paige, Richard Menard, Allen Fullam, Luther Tabor.

Baseball

Randolph High School, weather permitting, is scheduled to play eleven games this spring. So far three have been rained out while four have been played.

In the first game against the Aggies the hitting of R.H.S. proved too good for the hill boys. Then came the games with Northfield and Woodstock, which R.H.S. threw away on errors.

The return game with Woodstock was won by Randolph in a thrilling extra inning game.

As we lose Flint, Campbell, Fullam, Barcomb, Corse, and Cutting from the varsity the new coach will be fielding a brand new team next spring. Good luck in '54.

Student Council

Seated: Peggy Dalton, Raymond Gray, Dorrene Norton, Chester Manning, Katherine Holman, Leo Barcomb.

Standing: Lewis Chambers, Ann Webster, Ronald Howard, Albert Collins, Wanda Cox, Michael Pierce, Mary Hackett.

Second Row: Lois Smith, Rachel Bowen, Mary Menard, Shirley Bird, Lilla Reynolds.

Girls' Building Patrol

Girls' Building Patrol is an excellent opportunity for Senior girls to earn credit for their Silver R. The duties are divided among them and performed daily. The girls work in Mr. Murray's office, check windows, curtains, and desks in the classrooms, take care of mail, and patrol the corridors and stairs.

Seated (left to right): Rachel Bowen, Sheldon Newman, Anne Jarvis, Peter Catlin, Ruth Angell, Dean Flint, Nancy Preston.

The Galloping Ghost Gazette

This year the semi-annual Skool Nooz was converted to a four-page newspaper and renamed The Galloping Ghost Gazette. Nine issues were published during the year. The student body overwhelmingly endorsed it and plans are being made to publish it next year.

First Row (left to right): Michael Pierce, George Manning, Bernard Duto, James Lamb.
Second Row: Mr. Lewis, Philip Hannah, Donald Murray, Raymond Payette.

Safety Patrol

All patrol members take pride in their jobs, because they know that they are helping to regulate the school traffic and increase safety conditions near the school.

The Patrol Field Day was held this year on May 23 in Rutland for all patrol members in the southern part of Vermont.

Qualifications for Safety Patrol Members are sound moral character, dependability and willingness to obey orders, and good scholastic record.

The Randolph High Patrol has been assisted this spring by a policeman, George Manning, who has additional power to slow down traffic.

Music - - Chorus, Orchestra and Band

The opportunities for musical activities have increased decidedly this year. It has been an especially full year, musically, for the members of the three musical organizations. The school schedules two days a week, each, for the separate activities. Also included in these days are instrumental sectional rehearsals. From these three organizations representatives are sent to the Winooski and the All-State Music Festivals.

Chorus meets twice a week. A large variety of choral selections have been accomplished and this year Miss Mesh is sending a girls' group to audition at the music festival in Burlington. The choral work has been outstanding because of the interest and ability of the freshmen. The orchestra has a large number and variety of instruments. Mr. Ellis has very capably improved the instrumental side of the music.

Other musical activities this year have included a choral group who sang on Memorial Day and at Baccalaureate, and the orchestra, which played at the Senior Play, Carnival and on Sub-Freshman Day.

Second Row: Raymond Brown, Ruth Angell, Marjorie Shapiro, Carol Belmain, Shayne Tabor, Mary Ann Stone, Phyllis Duclaw, Robert Moore, Ann Snelling, Mary Hackett.

Standing: David Young, Sandra Morse, Ann Snelling, Sarah Manning, Vivian LaPerle, Elaine Battles, Clark Campbell.

Debating

This year the J.V.'s and the Varsity debaters participated in over forty debates! Almost every person who came to the meetings took part in at least one debate.

The tournament team consisted of Dorothy Perry and Marjorie Shapiro, affirmative; John McGee and Peter Catlin, negative. At the state tournament sponsored by U.V.M. we came in a close second with Dot Perry receiving a scholarship for earning the fourth place speaker award.

Although we didn't win the cup this year, our hopes are high for future triumphs.

Right Center: Coach Gaidys receives the cake at the basketball banquet. Beside him is Burley Barnard, who finished the coaching year for Mr. Gaidys.

Bottom Right: The cheer leaders in action.

Probably one of the biggest contributors to the success of our annual yearbook is the Patch family. All the group pictures and miscellaneous shots are taken, developed, and given us by them. Frank has been on the spot with a camera for every major event during his four years in high school. To them the staff would like to say "Thanks A Lot" for their immeasurable help.

To Our Advertisers:

For years, by your support, you have made it possible for the staff to publish a yearbook it is proud of. Our humble thanks go to all of you.

GALLOPING GHOST STAFF.
